WHOLE No. 1062.

D. APPLETON & COMPANY'S NEW BOOKS.

ETHNOLOGY IN FOLKLORE.

By GEORGE LAWRENCE GOMME, F.S.A., President of the Folklore Society, etc. The fourth volume in the Modern Science Series, edited by Sir John Lubbock, Bart., F.R.S. 12mo, cloth, $1.00.

This book is an attempt to ascertain and set forth the principles upon which folklore may be classified, in order to arrive at some of the results which should follow its study, giving the subject the importance it deserves in connection with researches in ethnology.

A QUEEN OF CURDS AND CREAM.

By DOROTHEA GERARD, author of "Orthodox," etc., and joint author of "A Sensitive Plant" and "Reata." No. 94, Town and Country Library. 12mo, paper, 50 cents; cloth, $1.00.

"'Orthodox' is an admirably written story, with a purpose."—Springfield Republican.

"The dramatic interest of 'Orthodox' reaches a really magnificent climax."—London Academy.

"'A Sensitive Plant' is one of the most interesting novels that have appeared for some time. . . . A charming story that at once wins the reader's attention."—Boston Traveller.

Part VI. of Volume III. Now Ready.

A TREATISE ON CHEMISTRY.

By Sir H. E. ROSCOE, F.R.S., and C. SCHORLEMMER, F.R.S., Professor of Chemistry in the Victoria University, Owens College, Manchester. 8vo, cloth, $3.00.

The previously published parts of this important work are: Vol. I., Non-Metallic Elements, $5.00; Vol. II., Metals, in two parts, $6.00; Vol. III., The Chemistry of the Hydrocarbons and Their Derivatives, in five parts, $22.00. The present issue (Part VI.) continues the subject of Vol. III.

"One of the best treatises in our language."—Iron.

"It is difficult to praise too highly the selection of materials and their arrangement, or the wealth of illustrations which explain and adorn the text."—London Academy.

THE CHRONICLES OF MR. BILL WILLIAMS.

(DUKESBOROUGH TALES.)

By RICHARD MALCOLM JOHNSTON, author of "Widow Guthrie," "The Primes and Their Neighbors," etc. No. 93, Town and Country Library. 12mo, paper, 50 cents, cloth, with portrait of the author, $1.00.

"A new and revised edition of Richard Malcolm Johnston's 'Dukesborough Tales' is to be published soon by D. Appleton & Co. Those who delight in the Colonel's homely and winning stories of Georgia life will be glad to know that Mr. Bill Williams, the quaintest of his characters, is to be the hero of the collection. The six 'Tales' which most brightly present Mr. Bill to an admiring world will fill the volume."—New York Tribune.

D. APPLETON & CO., 1, 3 and 5 Bond Street, New York.

A REVOLUTION IN S. S. TEACHERS' BIBLES.

WE HAVE JUST ISSUED

A JUBILEE MEMORIAL EDITION

OF THE SACRED SCRIPTURES,

HOLMAN SELF-PRONOUNCING S. S. TEACHER'S BIBLE.

IT is a well-known fact that the Scriptures are filled with many words of obscure origin and construction, and that it is difficult to determine their correct pronunciation. Our New Self-Pronouncing Teacher's Bible overcomes this difficulty completely.

Every proper name in the text is syllabified and accented, and has the vowels marked according to the best modern standards of pronunciation. The text is in exact conformity with that of the world-famous Oxford S. S. Teacher's Bible. The type-setting is the work of the well-known Riverside Press, Cambridge, Mass.

ALL THE VALUABLE

HELPS TO THE STUDY OF THE BIBLE

contained in the Oxford edition are retained. These have been justly styled "the essence of fifty volumes, by men of Sacred learning." "A complete library of Scriptural knowledge in a small compass," etc., etc.

This new Self-Pronouncing S. S. Teacher's Bible is indispensable to the Clergy, Students, S. S. Teachers, and to all who would read the Word of God intelligently. The helps are complete and reliable, the references full and accurate, and the volume is easy to carry and convenient to handle.

Correspondence with live booksellers, who are interested in the latest and best selling works, is solicited.

ATTENTION IS ALSO INVITED TO THE Standard Editions of our Family and Pulpit Bibles.

NOTES IN SEASON.

E. P. DUTTON & Co. have just issued two dainty little companion juveniles by Mary D. Brine: "Dan," a story for boys, and "The Little Twin Roses," a pretty tale of a little boy and a girl, both charmingly illustrated and bound in decorative covers of white and gold and pale blue. "Master Bartlemy," a pretty English story by Frances E. Crompton, and "To Nuremberg and Back," in which Amy Neally tells of a girl's holiday trip abroad, are also recent juvenile publications. "Small Helps for To-Day," compiled by Imogen Clark, is a neat little volume containing a Bible verse and two appropriate selections of prose and poetry for each day in the year.

HARPER & BROTHERS have nearly ready a book which doubtless will provoke no little discussion and controversy. It is entitled "The Puritan in Holland, England and America," by Douglas Campbell, who claims that the last word regarding the Puritan settlers of New England has not yet been written, and that many of the prevalent ideas concerning the earlier influences upon the political, social and religious life of the American people are susceptible of revision. They also announce for immediate publication: "The Venetians," a novel, by Miss M. E. Braddon; "Vesty of the Basins," a novel, by S. P. McLean Greene; "How Women Should Ride," by "C. de Hurst;" and "Diego Pinzon, and the Fearful Voyage He Took into the Unknown Ocean, A.D. 1492," an interesting addition to the Columbus literature of the year, by John Russell Coryell, designed especially for younger readers.

CHARLES SCRIBNER'S SONS will publish shortly the first volume of "The Teaching of Jesus," by Dr. D. H. Wendt, of Heidelberg, a contribution of the highest importance to biblical theology, the English translation being by the Rev. John Wilson, of Montreux, Switzerland; a new book by Dr. McCosh, entitled "Our Moral Nature; being a brief system of ethics;" Mr. Stevenson's story, "The Wrecker," a book on Norse history, industries, literature and social life, etc., entitled "Norway and the Norwegians," by C. F. Keary, an authority on the land of the Vikings; an important and entertaining volume, entitled "Conversations and Correspondence with Thomas Carlyle," by Sir Charles G. Duffy; "Principles of Theoretical and Practical Logic," by Prof. J. H. Hyslop, of Columbia; and a book called "First Aid in Illness and Injury" (written and illustrated by Capt. James E. Pilcher, U. S. A.), the purpose of which is to supply instructions that any one can understand for the emergencies and accidents that the human machine is liable to.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & Co. will publish this month Walter Crane's new book, "The Claims of Decorative Art," papers on "The Structure and Evolution of Decorative Pattern," "Art and Labor," "The Position and Claims of Decorative Art," "Art and Handicraft," "Importance of the Applied Arts and Their Relations to Common Life," and other subjects, illustrated by the author; "Favorite Flies and Their Histories," with replies from experienced anglers* to inquiries concerning how, when and where to use them," by Mary E. Orvis Marbury, with numerous illustrations; the fourth volume of Charles S. Sargent's important work on "The Silva of North America;" "Phases of Thought and Criticism," by Brother Azarias, who has won an enviable reputation for his scholarship and for his clear and attractive style; the fourth edition, revised, of Edward Stanwood's "History of Presidential Elections;" a new American edition of "A Treatise on the Law of Sale of Personal Property," with the American Law in the form of a monographic note (appended to each chapter), by Judah P. Benjamin, Q.C., of Lincoln's Inn, barrister-at-law, reprinted from the latest English edition, edited by Messrs. Arthur Beilby Pearson-Gee and Hugh Fenwick-Boyd, of the Inner Temple, London, and newly edited and revised by the Hon. Edmund H. Bennett, Dean of the Law School of the Boston University; a second edition, brought down to the present time, of Rowland Cox's "Manual of Trade-Mark Cases" and Margaret Deland's novel, "Sidney," in the Riverside Paper Series.

WEEKLY RECORD OF NEW PUBLICATIONS.*

The abbreviations are usually self-explanatory. c. after the date indicates that the book is copyrighted; if the copyright date differs from the imprint date, the year of copyright is added. Books of foreign origin of which the edition (annotated, illustrated, etc.) is entered as copyright, are marked c. ed.; translations, c. tr.; n. p. in place of price, indicates that the publisher makes no prices, either net or retail, and quotes prices to the trade only upon application.

A colon after initial designates the most usual given name, as: A: Augustus; B: Benjamin; C: Charles; D: David; E: Edward; F: Frederic; G: George; H: Henry; I: Isaac; J: John; L: Louis; N: Nicholas; P: Peter; R: Richard; S: Samuel; T: Thomas; W: William.

Sizes are designated as follows: F. (folio: over 30 centimeters high); Q. 4to: under 30 cm.; O. (8vo: 25 cm.); D. (2mo: 20 cm.); S. (6mo: 17½ cm.); T. (4mo: 15 cm.); Tl. (32mo: 12½ cm.); Fe. (48mo: 10 cm.). Sq., obl., nar., designate square, oblong, narrow books of these heights.

Aldrich, Herbert L. Arctic Alaska and Siberia; or, eight months with the Arctic whalemén. New ed. N. Y. and Chic., Rand, McNally & Co., 1889, [1892.] c. '89. 5-234 p. il. D. (Rialto ser., no. 44.) pap., 50 c.

Allen, Ja. Lane. The blue-grass region of Kentucky, and other Kentucky articles. N. Y., Harper, 1892. c. 5+322 p. il. O. cl., $2.50.

By the author of "Flute and violin." Sketches of Kentucky life and manners, embracing most entertaining descriptions, not only of the famous "Blue-grass region," but of other interesting localities, including the great coal and iron district of Cumberland Gap. Profusely illustrated.

*American and English railroad cases; a coll. of all the railroad cases in the courts of last resort in Am. and Eng.; ed. by W. M. McKinney. V. 48. Northport, N. Y., E: Thompson Co., [1892.] c. 10+746 p. O. shp., $4.50.

Austen, Jane. Pride and prejudice. Bost., Roberts Bros., 1892. c. 2 v. 3-275; 4-287 p. il. S. cl., $2.50. Edition de luxe, 2 v., $4.

*Avis, R. Bird-preserving, bird-mounting and the preservation of birds' eggs; with a chapter on bird catching. N. Y., F: Warne & Co., 1892. 1-50 p. il. 12°, cl., 20 c.

Balzac, Honoré de. Albert Savarus; tr. by Katharine Prescott Wormeley. Bost., Roberts Bros., 1892. c. 3+301 p. D. hf. rus., $1.50.

Besides "Albert Savarus" contains two other stories, "Paz" and "Madame Firmiani." "Albert Savarus" is a story of social conditions in provincial France a half-century ago. The hero's one aim in life is to marry a woman he loves, who is far above him in rank. All the work he accomplishes tends to raise him. His ambition has carried him to the point he has been working for, when an impish girl cruelly destroys his happiness and life. "Paz" depicts the best Parisian Polish society of Balzac's time. "Mme. Firmiani" is a short story in Balzac's best vein.

*Barre, Albert, and Leland, C: G., comps and eds. A dictionary of slang, jargon and cant, embracing English, American and Anglo-Indian slang, pidgin English, tinkers' jargon and other irregular phraseology. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1892. 2 v., sm. 4°, cl., $17.50.

Bassett, Fletcher S. Sea phantoms; or, legends and superstitions of the sea and of sailors in all lands and all times. Rev. ed. Chic., Morrill, Higgins & Co., 1892. c. '85. 505 p. D., cl., $1.25.

The present volume is an attempt at collecting the folk-lore of the sea and its belongings. It is based on ancient myths, interesting old legends, the traditions, beliefs and customs of modern sailors, culled from well-known nautical writers, and material furnished by poets and ballad writers.

Bazán, Emilia Pardo. A wedding trip; tr. by Mary J. Serrano. N. Y., Cassell Pub. Co., [1892.] c. '91. 2+352 p. D. (Cassell's sunshine ser., no. 108.) cl., 75 c.; pap., 50 c.

See notice, "Weekly Record," P. W., June 20, 1891, [No. 1012.]

Beard, Dan. Moonlight, and "Six feet of romance;" il. by the author. N. Y., C. L. Webster & Co., 1892. c. 8-221 p. D. cl., $1.

A mining town of Pennsylvania is the scene. While an owner of the mines is sojourning in the American House, a passing interest in the library of the former occupant of his room leads him to read an illuminated missal, entitled "Dreams and moonlight." According to the writer, those affected by this complaint are unable to distinguish dreams from realities. To rid himself of impressions induced by reading this book he takes up a second work, which impels him to wish to see things as they are. The wish is realized. What he sees enables him to contrast the conditions of an American miner's life with his own, and to devise a scheme that involves social reform, progressive action, and the interests both of capitalists and workmen. There is included an imaginative story in which six feet and an old foot-stove are important factors.

Birrell, Augustine. Res judicatæ: papers and essays. N. Y., C: Scribner's Sons, [1892.] c. 5+308 p. S. cl., $1.

Twelve essays by the author of "Obiter Dicta." The "matters already settled" covered by the title are: Samuel Richardson, Edward Gibbon, William Cowper, George Borrow, Cardinal Newman, Matthew Arnold, William Hazlitt, The letters of Charles Lamb, Authors in court, Nationality, The Reformation and Sainte-Beuve. The first two papers are printed for the first time; the others have appeared in Macmillan's, the Reflector, Scribner's Magazine and the Speaker.

*Black, H: Campbell. A treatise on the laws regulating the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors. St. Paul, Minn., West Pub. Co., 1892. c. 52+711 p. O. shp., $6.30.

Black, W. Kilmeny. [New uniform] and rev. ed. N. Y., Harper, 1892. 4+340 p. D. cl., 90 c.

*Bœddicker, Otto. The milky way, from the North Pole to 10° of South declination; drawn at the Earl of Rosse's observatory at Birr Castle. N. Y., Longmans, Green & Co., 1892. 4 pl. in portfolio, with text, 18 in. x 23 in., cl., $10.

Bosworth, Bessie Bryant. Dramatic studies and selections for amateurs; for use in the home and school. [New issue.] Chic., Morrill, Higgins & Co., 1892. c. '89, '92. 437 p. il. D. cl., $1.25.

Embraces also a large selection of materials for high-class entertainments with outlines in illustration of a Delsarte drill, hints on costume, etc., and pieces specially adapted for the "Daughters of the king." Originally published by Belford, Clarke & Co.

Brace, Maria Porter, [Mrs. Kimball.] A textbook of elocution. Bost., Leach, Shewell & Sanborn, [1892.] c. '92. 2-84 p. S. cl., 40 c.

Aims to set forth, upon a scientific basis, the laws of sound as applied to articulate speech. Claims to do away with superfluous and fanciful terms, and reduce the subject to its essential principles. Each one of the topics, Pitch, Force, Quality and Time, is treated from a threefold point of view, i.e., the physiological, the physical and the psychological. A few well-tryed exercises for practice are offered under each topic.

Brown, Eli, F., M.D. Sex and life: the physiology and hygiene of the sexual organization. Chic., F. J. Schulte & Co., [1892.] c. '91. 3-142 p. il. D. cl., $1; pap., 50 c.

A series of papers which present the characteristics of the sexual organs as demonstrated in plant life, animal life and the life of man. Their purpose seems to be to give an intelligent conception of the vital organs with their different conditions, and advice as to their proper care.

Buckley, J. M. A hereditary consumptive's successful battle for life. N. Y., Hunt & Eaton, 1892. c. 3-99 p. D. cl., 50 c.; pap., 30 c.

Consists of articles which appeared originally in the Christian Advocate, with some additional matter which the writer deems important. The principles underlying it are that pure air is an essential of life and the absence of it is death, and there is a purpose to advise consumptives how to combat disease. These papers are entitled: The case; The victory; A plan of battle; Cautions and confirmations; Climate and consumption; How Dr. Bowditch cured himself of consumption.

*Burnet, J. Early Greek philosophy. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1892. 378 p. 8°, cl., $3.50.

Calmire. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1892. c. 4-742 p. D. cl., $1.50.

Fleuvevent, a rich country seat just outside of New York City, is the home of Muriel Calmire and his uncle. Muriel suffers greatly from undigested and unassimilated information on religious and social conditions. His opinions and conceptions of life are chiefly spoken to his young cousin, Nina Wahring, a healthy, lovable, common-sense girl, full of desire to understand the impulsive, poetic, unbalanced young reformer. Under her influence he finally passes from chaos into Kosmos, the two divisions of a very serious novel.

Campbell, J. P. Biological teaching in the colleges of the United States. Wash., D. C., Government Print. Office, 1891, [1892.] 4-183 p. O. (Bureau of education, circular of information, no. 9.) pap., n. p.

Contents: Detailed description of the biological courses offered by American colleges; the educational value of biological studies—school work; College courses; University work in biology, etc.

Carlyle, T. The last words of Thomas Carlyle. N. Y., Appleton, 1892. c. 6-383 p. por. O. cl., $1.75.

The two manuscripts included in this volume were left among Carlyle's papers at his death. One of them, "Wotton Reinfred," is Carlyle's only essay in fiction; it is largely autobiographical, inasmuch as it represents the earlier period of Carlyle's literary development, having been written directly after his marriage; under a thin disguise it is also supposed to offer portraits and reminiscences of Irving, Thackeray and Coleridge. The other, "Excursion (Futile enough) to Paris," offers a vivid picture of Carlyle's personality. It is the unreserved daily record of a journey in company with the Brownings, when Carlyle paid a visit to Lord Ashburton.

Carpenter, Mary Thorn. A girl's winter in India. N. Y., A. D. F. Randolph & Co., 1892. 11-240 p. il. D. cl., $1.50.

The narrative begins at Rome; the traveller then goes to Naples and Pompeii, takes a steamer from Egypt to Port Said through the Suez Canal, visits the Island of Ceylon, and finally arrives at Bombay. The other places of note visited are Calcutta, Benares, Lucknow and Cawnpore, Delhi, Jeypore, etc.

*Castle, Egerton. Schools and masters of fence, from the middle ages to the end of the eighteenth century; with a complete bibliography; il. with reproductions of old engravings and representations of typical swords. New rev. ed. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1892. 79-359 p. 12° cl., $2.

*Chisholm, G. G., and Leete, C. H., eds. Longmans' new atlas, political and physical; consisting of 39 quarto and 14 octavo maps and diagrams. N. Y., Longmans, Green & Co., 1892. 4°, hf. mor., $3.

*Chisholm, G. G., and Leete, C. H., eds. Longmans' new school atlas; consisting of 28 quarto and 10 octavo colored maps (and 20 insets.) N. Y., Longmans, Green & Co., 1892. 8°, cl., $1.50.

*Chisholm, G. G., and Leete, C. H., eds. Questions based on Longmans' school geography. N. Y., Longmans, Green & Co., 1892. 78 p. 12°, cl., 40 c.

Churchill, Randolph S. (Lord.) Men, mines and animals in South Africa. N. Y., Appleton, 1892. 15-337 p. por. map, il. O. cl., $5.

Valuable information concerning South Africa, its people, its attractions, its modes of life and of travel, and its resources. Contains also picturesque and humorous descriptions of scenes in the diamond-mines and gold-fields, of hunting in Bechuanaland and life in Mashonaland, and adventures with lions and elephants. First published in the London Daily Graphic, 1891, in the form of letters.

Clark, Imogen, comp. Small helps for to-day; selected and arr. by Imogen Clark. N. Y., E. P. Dutton & Co., 1892. c. 3-366 p. T. cl., $1.

A Bible text, a poem and prose selection for every day of the year. Bound in delicate gray with silver and gilt design.

Clark, Lucien, D.D. Religion for the times. N. Y., Hunt & Eaton, 1892. c. 421 p. D. cl., $1.25.

The assistant editor of the Christian Advocate has not written a treatise on Christian evidences, but a plea for the true religion of Christ, which, correctly understood and intelligently practised, would do away with a secular and religious world, for "men would serve God as truly and do His will as acceptably, and glorify His name as certainly in business and political life as in the holy exercises of the sanctuary."

*Clerke, Agnes M. Familiar studies in Homer. N. Y., Longmans, Green & Co., 1892. 10-303 p. 8°, cl., $1.75.

Corelli, Marie, [pseud for Minnie Mackay.] Thelma: a Norwegian princess. N. Y., Lovell, Coryell & Co., [1892.] 4-485 p. D. (Belmore ser., no. 2.) pap., 50 c.

While Sir Philip Errington is cruising on the Norwegian coast he meets and loves Thelma Guldemar. After overcoming the prejudices of the girl's father, a stern old Norse giant, Sir Philip makes Thelma Lady Errington, in which role she is seen to great advantage, and as the heroine of a matrimonial misunderstanding that has both pathetic and pleasing results.

Crafts, Rev. Wilbur F. The Sabbath for man: a study of the origin, obligation, history, advantages and present state of Sabbath observance, with special reference to the rights of workingmen. 6th ed., rev. and enl. N. Y., The Baker & Taylor, Co., 1892. 3-672 p. diagrams, maps, D. cl., $1.50.

In this edition the improvements are largely in the fuller showing the author is now able to make of Sabbath observance in our own land, having crossed the Continent six times in these seven years as a Sabbath reforming lecturer and organizer. The book aims chiefly at practical results, the suppression of Sunday work and Sunday dissipation, of Sunday mails, Sunday trains, Sunday newspapers, Sunday saloons; but it also discusses the religious and scientific aspects of the subject.

Crompton, Frances E. Master Bartlemy; or, the Thankful Heart. N. Y., E. P. Dutton & Co., 1892. 6-173 p. il. D. cl., 75 c.

Master Bartlemy was a poor peasant boy, who attained some fame as a wood carver, and who died in his early manhood, after endowing his house for the poor. The scene is in Forest Morton; Miss Nancy is the quaint little heroine of a story, which tells of her impressions about the dead artist and Squire Throgmorton's reasons for a re-endowment of the Thankful Heart. By the author of "Friday's child."

Curtis, G. W.: James Russell Lowell: an address. N. Y., Harper, 1892. c. 2-64 p. por. il. T. (Harper's black and white ser.) cl., 50 c.

This address was delivered at the Brooklyn Institute on the 22d of Feb., 1892. It is highly eulogistic of Lowell as a man and as a writer, and is adorned by a number of interesting portraits.

Cushing, Paul. The blacksmith of Voe: a novel. N. Y., Harper, [1892.] 3+300 p. D. (Harper's Franklin sq. lib., new series, no. 720.) pap., 50 c.

The story opens with a quarrel between two brothers about a young woman, in which one is supposed to be killed. But Abel Boden is nursed back to life, and leaves his native village for many years—his brother Luke living under the harrowing belief that he is a murderer. Abel leaves a boy behind him, and Luke has a daughter. After twenty years, when the story is resumed, this boy and girl love each other, and are meeting with strong opposition from Luke Boden. Abel Boden has returned home, having made a fortune in America, and is unrecognized by his friends. He is the "blacksmith of Voe," and the hidden agent of many of the story's events.

Cutts, E. L., D.D. Notes of lessons on the Church, in the New Testament. N. Y., E. & J. B. Young & Co., 1892. 4-159 p. D. cl., $1.

"The 'Gospels,' which seem to say nothing about the Church, except for two or three allusions, really bear witness to the fact, that all through our Lord's ministry the Church occupied a large space in his thoughts and teachings. The 'Acts of the Apostles,' which to some seems to be merely a collection of anecdotes of missionary work, is the history and foundation of the growth of the Church. It is to show this existence of the Church in the 'Gospels,' and bring out this history of Church organization in the Acts, and to illustrate further the history of the Church from the Epistles and the Revelation, that this series of 'Notes of lessons' has been prepared."—Introductory note.

Davis, Washington, and Cole, Ashley W. Silent bliss; or, shut the gate: an American social study: a novel. Chic., G. E. Wilson, 1892. 2-265 p. D. (Wilson's lib. of fiction, no. 12.) pap., 50 c.

*Deite, C. A., M.D., [and others.] Practical treatise on the manufacture of perfumery: comprising directions for making all kinds of perfumes, sachet powders, fumigating materials, dentifrices, cosmetics, etc.; from the German, by W. T. Brann. Phil., H. C. Baird & Co., 1892. 358 p. 12°, cl., $3.

Dodd, Anna Bowman. In and out of three Normandy inns; il. by C. S. Reinhart and other artists. N. Y., Lovell, Coryell & Co., [1892.] c. 6+394 p. O. cl., $2.

The author of "Cathedral days," with a young companion, made an unconventional tour along the Normandy coast, their observations and adventures forming the substance of this attractive volume. The peasants of Normandy, their hard-working lives and industrious habits, were particularly objects of study. The historical associations of this little-known part of France are accurately given.

*Dropsie, Moses A. The Roman law of testaments, codicils and gifts in the event of death (mortis causa donationes.) Phil., T. & J. W. Johnson & Co., 1892. c. 11+197 p. O. cl., $3.

Dumas, Alex., (fils.) The Clemenceau case; memoire de l'accuse; from the French, by W. L. Marshall. Phil., Crawford & Co., [1892.] 219 p. D. (Popular ser. of choice novels, no. 7.) pap., 25 c.

Ellicott, C. J., D.D. Christus Comprobator; or, the testimony of Christ to the Old Testament: seven addresses. 3d ed. N. Y., E. & J. B. Young & Co., 1892. 4-213 p. D. cl. 80 c.

These addresses form portions of a charge recently delivered to the clergy and laity of the Archdeaconries of Gloucester and Cirencester. They are entitled: Introduction; The two themes; The two arguments; The appeal to Christ; The Lord's teaching as to the law; The Lord's references to history and prophecy; Conclusion.

*Euripides. Medea; with notes, appendices and vocabulary, by M. A. Bayfield. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1892. 12+137 p. 18°, (Elementary classics.) cl., 40 c.

Fairchild, Ja. H. Elements of theology, natural and revealed. Oberlin, O., E. J. Goodrich, [1892.] c. 15+358 p. O. cl., $2.50.

"The controlling thought in the mind of the author, the organic principle in the system of doctrine presented, is the recognition of the distinct and complete personality of God and a like personality in man, as set forth in the Scriptures. It has been his purpose to develop the system of truth in harmony with these two correlated facts, and thus reach a self-consistent and reasonable theology."—Preface.

*Falkener, E. Games, ancient and oriental, and how to play them; il. by photographs, colored plates and many diagrams. N. Y., Longmans, Green & Co., 1892. 4+366 p. 8°, cl., $6.

*Farrar, F. W., D.D. In the days of thy youth; sermons on practical subjects preached at Marlborough College from 1871 to 1876. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1892. 15+398 p. 12°, cl., $1.25.

Fawcett, Edgar. A New York family: a novel; il. by T. Nast and others. N. Y., Cassell Pub. Co., 1892. c. '91. 5+277 p. D. (Cassell's sunshine ser., no. 110.) cl., 75 c.; pap., 50 c.

See notice, "Weekly Record," P. W., May 2, 1891. [1005.]

*Fitz Patrick, J. Secret service under Pitt. N. Y., Longmans, Green & Co., 1892. 8+390 p. 8°, cl., $4.50.

Foster, R. S. Union of Episcopal Methodisms. N. Y., Hunt & Eaton, 1892. c. 91 p. O. cl., 75 c.

A new plea for the reunion of the Methodist Episcopal Church and the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, as well as for all the smaller Methodisms. This is a calmly written treatise on sects, their grounds and justification, determining reasons for the existence of sects, reasons for consolidation of sects, and specially for organic unions between the Methodist Episcopal Churches.

Francis, Mrs. C. D. Church teaching is Bible teaching. N. Y., E. & J. B. Young & Co., 1892. 88 p. S. cl., 20 c.

Evidently an attempt to prove, by means of supposed conversations, about the preaching of the Gospel, holy baptism, holy communion, Apostolic succession, and other rites and beliefs of the Anglican church, that the church and the Bible are in accordance. The subject matter is the substance of the more important chapters of Sadler's "Doctrine—Bible truth," rendered in easy and compact form. The arguments are likewise adapted from the same source.

Gally, J. W. A mountain hero. [Also.] Big Jack Small. [New issue.] Chic., Morrill, Higgins & Co., 1892. c. '80, '92. 4-243 p. il. D. (Idylwild ser., v. 1, no. 5.) pap., 50 c.

Originally published by Belford, Clarke & Co., 1880.

Gatschenberger, Stephan. Love is lord of all; or, neighboring steppes: a novel; adapted from the German, by Mary J. Safford; il. by Warren B. Davis. N. Y., Rob. Bonner's Sons, [1892.] c. 6-351 p. D. (Choice ser., no. 61.) cl., $1; pap., 50 c.

A novel founded on an episode of love, which is strong enough to surmount social and religious differences and personal disapproval. The story reflects the varying phases of Hungarian national life, with the social, political and commercial conditions of modern Hungary. In adapting the novel from the German the translator has made, at the request of the publisher, such changes as she believes will make the book acceptable to American readers.

Grant, Rob. The reflections of a married man. N. Y., C: Scribner's Sons, 1892. 2+165 p. D. cl., $1.

In a half-cynical, half-humorous vein, a husband and a father of four children depicts the troubles of housekeeping, and sketches the vexations of life generally as experienced by a married man.

Habberton, J. Well out of it; six days in the life of an ex-teacher. N. Y., J: A. Taylor & Co., [1892.] c. 4-184 p. D. (Mayflower lib., no. 5.) pap., 30 c.

Reminiscences of a love affair, with the attendant worries of a public school teacher, induce Ruth Brown to take a needed vacation; she selects a place of sojourn which she believes entirely free of children, and as a result is the central figure in a romance in which a little girl is the mediator, and Frank Wayne the hero. The novel is told in six chapters, each chapter brings out some incident of a healthy love-story.

Hammond, Jos. Seal and sacrament: a guide to confirmation and Holy communion. N. Y., E. & J. B. Young & Co., 1892. 2-256 p. S. cl., $1.

A collection of occasional papers intended as a handbook of teaching on confirmation and the holy communion, to supply material for odd addresses or a course, and to provide the clergy and the church with a series of pithy and pointed tracts.

Hancock, Harrie Irving. Inspector Henderson, the Central Office detective. N. Y., J. S. Ogilvie, [1892.] 2-216 p. D. (Sunnyside ser., no. 56.) pap., 25 c.

Harrison, Mrs. Constance Cary, [Mrs. Burton Harrison.] An edelweiss of the Sierras, Golden-rod and other tales. N. Y., Harper, 1892. c. 2+209 p. D. cl., $1.25.

Contents: An edelweiss of the Sierras; Golden-rod; an idyl of Mount Desert; Under the convent wall; Cherycote; The shattered violin; A house built upon the sand; On a hill-top.

*Harrison, Mary. Cookery for busy lives and small incomes. N. Y., Longmans, Green & Co., 1892. 4+112 p. 16°, cl., 40 c.

Hensel, Octavia. Imperia: a story from the Court of Austria. Buffalo, N. Y., C: Wells Moulton, 1892. c. 4-352 p. D. pap., 75 c.

The scene opens in Walderbridge, Castle Zadowa, Moldavia. Prince Velutini, who is on the eve of making a morganatic marriage, is apprehended and his design frustrated by Imperia Countess Fernandez. On her action is dependant a story of strong motives, love and intrigue, in which are seen the romantic history of an Austrian Prince and the indomitable purpose of a noble woman.

Hervey, A. C. (Bp.). Authenticity of the Gospel of St. Luke; its bearing upon the evidences of the truth of Christianity: five lectures, by the Bishop of Bath and Wells, delivered at Bath, in the autumn of 1890. 2d ed. N. Y., E. & J. B. Young & Co., 1892. 156 p. S. cl., 80 c.

A course of lectures originally delivered and now published under the direction of the Tract Committee of the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge, for the purpose of bringing the results of learned research within the grasp of those who have not easy access to books.

Hinman, Walter N. Under the maples. Chic., Morrill, Higgins & Co., 1892. c. '88. 2-299 p. il. D. (Idylwild ser., v. 1, no. 2.) pap., 50 c.

Originally published by Belford, Clarke & Co. See notice, "Weekly Record," P. W., Dec. 8, '88, [880.]

Hyslop, Ja. H. The elements of logic, theoretical and practical. N. Y., C: Scribner's Sons, 1892. c. 8+403 p. O. cl., $2.

The author claims that he has not aimed at an exhaustive study of logic, but that he has endeavored to produce a work which can be used both for beginners and advanced students of the subject. He also states that although his system is that of Jevons, as to matter and method, he has made both deviations, additions and omissions; endeavored to develop his subject, according to the questions of his students, and fully answer all questions induced by the framing of rules regarding the logical treatment of conceptions and propositions.

Ingram, Rev. A. F. W. Old Testament difficulties: a collection of papers written for working-men. N. Y., E. & J. B. Young & Co., [1892.] 64 p. S. cl., 20 c.

It is claimed that the first two of this series of brief papers are a practical analysis of Paterson Smyth's book, entitled "How we got our Bible." They furnish incidental history relative to the translation and revision and various editions of the Bible, and are the necessary adjuncts of a series which aims to solve Bible problems by intelligent treatment of subjects.

*Johnston, Rev. Ja. Missionary points and pictures. N. Y. and Chic., Fleming H. Revell Co., 1892. 127 p. il. 12°, cl., 50 c.

Mathers, Helen. T'other dear charmer. N. Y., Lovell, Coryell & Co., [1892.] c. 3-192 p. S. (Lovell's Westminster ser., no. 69.) pap., 30 c.

Devonshire is the background. Hugh Valentine, a handsome young amateur artist, on his way across the country to visit Dosia Treherne, a girl whom he had met in London and given his heart to, stops before a high wall to pluck a white rose. Through this act he makes the acquaintance of a mysterious young Frenchwoman who lives in the house behind the wall, and becomes the innocent victim of an apparently compromising scene which nearly breaks Dosia Treherne's and his own heart.

Mears, D. O., D.D. Oberlin lectures of 1892: The pulpit and the pews. Oberlin, O., E. J. Goodrich, 1892. 3-128 p. D. cl., $1.

Three lectures that were delivered recently before the students of the Oberlin Theological Seminary, and which now, at the request of the faculty and students, appear in book form under the title: The pulpit a conserving force; The limitations of the sermon; The duties and rights of the pews. These lectures are designed to meet many phases of Christian work in relation to the pulpit.

Contents: The Old South: Authorship in the South before the war; Glimpses of life in colonial Virginia; Social life in old Virginia before the war; Two old colonial places; The old Virginia lawyer; The want of a history of the Southern people; The negro question. "These essays are given to the public in the hope that they may serve to help awaken inquiry into the true history of the Southern people and may aid in dispelling the misapprehension under which the old South has lain so long."

Pain, Barry. Stories and interludes. N. Y., Harper, 1892. c. 7+203 p. D. cl., $1.

Fresh, original stories in which are mingled a touch of the supernatural. First appeared in the English magazines.

Parkman, Francis. A half century of conflict. Bost., Little, Brown & Co., 1892. c. 2 v., 10+333; 8+395 p. O. cl., $5.

Forms Pt. 6 of the series called "France and England in North America." Takes up the narrative at the close of the author's "Count Frontenac and New France under Louis XIV." (being Pt. 5), and filling the gap between that work and "Montcalm and Wolfe" (pt. 7). The series now forms a continuous history of the efforts of France to occupy and control this continent, being completed by this work, which covers the period from 1700 to 1748. "In the present volumes," says the author, "the nature of the subject does not permit an unbroken thread of narrative; and the unity of the book lies in its being throughout, in one form or another, an illustration of the singularly contrasted characters and methods of the rival claimants to North America. Like the rest of the series, the work is founded on original documents."

*Peck, Hiram D. The law of municipal corporations in the state of Ohio, embracing the statutes in force, with forms and notes of the decisions of the supreme and other courts of the state relating thereto. 3d ed., enl. and rewritten. Pennell, Jos. The Jew at home: impressions of a summer and autumn spent with him; il. by the author. N. Y., Appleton, 1892. c. 2-105 p. D. cl., $1.

Mr. Pennell wrote a series of descriptions of the Jew in Austria and Hungary, in Austrian Poland and in Russia for the Illustrated London News in December, 1891. In the issue of this paper for January 9, 1892, his articles were answered by "A Native of Brody." Other newspapers have challenged him to answer this answer. The Illustrated London News did not think well of continuing the subject, and preferring not to begin a newspaper war, Mr. Pennell makes his explanations in this volume.

*Pennsylvania. County cts. Reports, cont. cases decided in the courts of the several counties of the commonwealth. V. 4, [1888.] v. 8, [1890.] Phil., T. & J. W. Johnson & Co., 1892. c. 2 v., 25+712; 80+718 p. O. shp., ea., $5.

Pratt, S. W. The gospel of the holy spirit. N. Y., A. D. F. Randolph & Co., [1892.] c. '92. 11+177 p. S. cl., $1.

Written as a devotional help for the church at large to promote her spirituality and to lead to a chosen communion with the Holy Spirit. The late President Mark Hopkins, of Williams College, read the outlines of this book during the last year of his life and offered the author words of encouragement and valuable suggestions. It is suggested that the comparative feebleness and insufficiency of modern piety may be traced to the lack of public attention given to the third person of the trinity. Unsectarian.

Prince (A) of good-fellows: a picture from life, by the author of "A woman of New Orleans." N. Y., J. S. Ogilvie, [1892.] c. 208 p. D. (Sunnyside ser., no. 57.) pap., 25 c.

- Raymond, Rob. R., ed. Typical tales of fancy, romance and history; from Shakespeare's plays, in narrative form, largely in Shakespeare's words, with dialogue passages in the original dramatic text. New ed. N. Y., Fords, Howard & Hurlbert, [1892.] c. '81, '92. 3+224 p. O. cl., $1.20.
A new and cheaper ed. of a work first published in 1881, when Prof. Raymond was principal of the Boston School of Oratory. Contains a memoir of William Shakespeare, and the plays of "A midsummer night's dream," "As you like it" and "Julius Cæsar," partly in narrative form, and partly in the poet's own words.
- *Richardson, A. T. Graduated mathematical exercises for home work. 2d ser. N. Y., Macmillan & Co., 1892. 7+849 p. 16°, cl., 60 c.
- Roberts, Margaret. A younger sister. N. Y., Longmans, Green & Co., 1892. 314 p. D. cl., $1.25.
A story of English family life, told with the minute detail characteristic of the author of "The atelier du Lys." It deals chiefly with the development of Guenola, the "younger sister," whose originality and innate force of character are repressed by her father's selfish short-sightedness, and who is considered by her family to be a far less devoted daughter than Marcia, her well-regulated elder sister. Yet Marcia seeks her own happiness, and when times of trial come it is Guenola who takes her place, becomes the mainstay of the home, and makes the greatest sacrifice in her power unsuspected. In the sudden happiness that comes to her at last, the devotion of the younger sister meets with due recognition.
- Roe, E. R. Virginia Rose. Chic., Donohue, Henneberry & Co., 1892. c. 5-252 p. il. D. (Dearborn ser., no. 60.) pap., 25 c.
Virginia Rose is the central figure in a series of sensational incidents and a mystery that involves an abduction, a strange revelation and a romantic love-story.
- Ruskin, J. The stones of Venice; introductory chapters and local indices (printed separately) for the use of travellers while staying in Venice and Verona; with introd. by C. Eliot Norton. Brantwood ed. N. Y., C. E. Merrill & Co., 1891 [1892.] 2 v. 15+302; 4+360 p. D. cl., $3.

- Sermons to young men. N. Y., E. & J. B. Young & Co., [1892.] 104 p. S. cl., 40 c.
- Four sermons which were preached during Advent, 1890, at King's College chapel, in connection with the London Diocesan Council. The first, The secret voice, is followed by The religious duty of thought, by Bishop Alfred Barry; Christian strength, by H. Ware, D.D.; The joy of the Lord, by Canon H. Scott Holland.
- Shackford, C. Chauncy. Social and literary papers. Bost., Roberts Bros., 1892. c. 4-299 p. D. cl., $1.50.
Essays prepared for and read before various literary clubs, chiefly in Boston and vicinity. While they were in process of printing the author died, and his work was carried on under the editorial supervision of A. W. Stevens, of the University Press, who has aimed, as far as possible, to carry out what he believes to be the design of Mr. Shackford. The articles are entitled: Eschylus on some modern social problems; A satirist in the second century; A sceptic in the eighteenth century; Nemesis in Greek tragedy; The Pope in "The ring and the book;" Browning's "In a balcony;" The Greek comedy of manners; Plato's republic; Aristotle's politics; Social progress; Social plans and problems; Social tendencies; The nation as an organism in Shakespeare; The common reason in social reforms; History as development.
- Sparhawk, Frances C. Onoqua. Bost., Lee & Shepard, [1892.] c. '92. 4+263 p. D. (Good Company ser., no. 18.) pap., 50 c.
The story was originally published as a serial in the Congregationalist. Onoqua, the heroine, is a young Indian girl who leaves the reservation to attend an Eastern school. In her history is pictured the life of the girls of her race, some of the indignities which the white man heaps upon the Indian are defined, and the action of the Indians under the present condition of things is seen. The novel aims to awaken an interest in the Indian problem.
- Stapleton, Patience. Kady: a Colorado romance. Chic., Morrill, Higgins & Co., 1892. c. '88, '92. 403 p. il. D. (Idylwild ser., v. 1, no. 1.) pap., 50 c.
Originally published by Belford, Clarke & Co., 1889. See notice, "Weekly Record," P. W., March 2, 1889, [1892.]
- *Stapylton, H. E. Chetwynd. The Chetwynds of Ingestre; being a history of that family from a very early date; il. by the author. N. Y., Longmans, Green & Co., 1892. 12+204 p. 8°, cl., $4.50.
- Stephalius, (pseud.), ed. Merry tales of the monks: rev. and enl. ed., by Stephalius. Phil., Jordan Bros., 1892, c. '91. 5+380 p. D. cl., $1; pap., 50 c.
Forty-four stories of scandal devoid of all wit or literary merit.
- *Stifter, J. M., D.D. Introduction to the study of the acts of the apostles. N. Y., Fleming H. Revell Co., 1892. 287 p. 12° cl., $1.25.

- Todd, Adah J. The vacation club. N. Y., T. Whittaker, 1892. c. 2+225 p. il. D. cl., $1.
A party of bright young people spending a summer vacation on a New England farm, and tired of tennis and croquet, form a natural history club to explore the woods and fields around them. Their methods and the results of their explorations are embodied in chapters under the headings: The rocks; The flowers; The stars; The seashore; Hydroids and algae; The microscope; How things are made; Pond life; Minerals; The stars again.
- *Tower, Rev. Philo. Slavery unmasked; or, three years in eleven Southern States. Rochester, N. Y., Erastus Darrow, care of W. J. Wilcox, 1892. 12°, pap., 50 c.
- *United States. Supreme ct. Reports, v. 143, Oct. term, 1891; J. C. Bancroft Davis, rep. N. Y. and Alb., Banks & Bros., 1892. c. 18+736 p. O. shp., $2.50.
- *Utah. Supreme ct. Reports of cases, from the Jan term, 1889, to the June term, 1890; J. M. Zane, rep. V. 6. Chic., Callaghan & Co., 1892. c. 13+493 p. O. shp., $6.

Van Anderson, Helen. Is it possible: a story of life. Chic., New Era Pub. Co., 1891, [1892.] c. 5-342 p. D. cl., $1.25.

Some of the possibilities of life, she brought out in the trials, struggles and doubts of two children, and the power of love in religion is shown. By means of a marital venture of one of these and some strong scenes, the author vents theories about woman's rights and individual expansion.

Watson, Rob. A., D.D. The book of Job. N. Y., A. C. Armstrong & Son, 1892. 6+416 p. O. (Expositor's Bible, new [5th.] ser.) cl., $1.50.

The author has prepared "Judges and Ruth" for the Expositor's Bible. His argument places Job among the later books of the Old Testament, as the style shows it to have been written after literary finish had come to be of importance in the world of letters. He claims the Book of Job is intended to show the doubt and fear, the devastating godlessness of man, the strange, sad enmity of the carnal mind which Christ has to overcome.

PROFESSION OF BOOKSELLING.—XII.

BUYING STOCK.—III.

Most publishing houses have fixed rates of discount from which they rarely deviate. For instance, some allow on first orders forty off on twenty-five copies, and a third on ten copies or less. Others allow forty off on all first orders, regardless of quantities. This known, haggling is of no use, unless the buyer is in a position to force the situation by large orders and cash payments. Then there are houses that make a uniform rate of discount on all their stock, excepting certain specialties, irrespective of all conditions, whether the dealer buys one book or a hundred. Other houses, again, require the dealer to buy a special bill of say $50 or $100 at a time to get the bottom discount. Some dealers, when buying of the latter firms, as a rule, hold back their daily orders, such as are not needed at once, until the salesmen call on them, and then endeavor to put in these stock orders with the new purchases to swell the amount of their bill to the required sum. While salesmen occasionally, as a matter of accommodation, consent to lumping orders in this way they do not look upon the innovation favorably, and we would advise buyers not to resort to the expedient too often, as the practice may put them at a disadvantage at a time when they may feel called upon to solicit a favor of real value to them and their employers.

At this point it may be well to consider the question whether to buy "on time" or on a cash basis. Whenever possible, we should strongly favor the latter course. Indeed, the cash system is a principal element of success, as the extra discounts which prompt cash payments secure, are in themselves good profit. "Time," and "long time" is no doubt very often a great temptation, especially to a small dealer: he figures that the longer the time the greater the chance of turning over the stock before payment on it becomes due; and that buying "on time" makes it easier for him all around to do a far larger business on a minimum of capital than would be possible if he had to wholly depend upon the immediate cash at his disposal alone.

If a man is aware that by such figuring he is not only placing himself at a disadvantage in competition with a neighbor who works on a cash basis, but making an actual sacrifice of from $500 to $1200 a year, according to the amount of business done by him, we have no further suggestions to make to him. If he is ignorant of these facts we point to the following illustration of the principle of cash payment, made by a dealer who has given considerable thought and attention to the subject for years. Though quoted not long ago in these columns we take the risk of repeating ourselves at this juncture:

"A common discount given by certain manufacturers," says he, "is six per cent. off ten days, or five per cent. off thirty days, a difference of one per cent. a year on the average monthly bill. If it be known by experience that the retailer pays promptly ten days from date of bill, which at far points is equivalent to receipt of goods, he is practically a spot-cash customer, and can secure all of the advantages of discounts and low prices that can be given.

"Take the case of a dealer doing a business of $16,000 or $17,000 yearly, whose monthly bills will be about $1000. As his own prompt payments will not affect his collections he will have to employ say $1000 more capital in availing himself of the additional one per cent. discount for twenty days' time.

"One per cent. on $1000 for twenty days would be eighteen per cent. a year, but as he could not expect to have the $1000 employed in covering such discounts for more than three-fourths of the time, owing to the fact that his bills will not become due exactly at equal intervals throughout the year, the saving will be thirteen and one-half per cent. on $1000. Deduct from that the loaning value of the money, say six per cent., and the per cent. remaining is seven and one-half.

"Conservative opinion is that such quicker payments would benefit the dealer's purchases at least one per cent. (some manufacturers put it higher), which on $1000 a month would amount to $120 a year, equal to twelve per cent., which would make the total saving about fifty per cent. a year on the $1000 of additional capital employed."

Whatever the discount allowed for cash, it is safe to figure that the amount saved by the believer in cash discounts often amounts to more than the year's addition to those who buy on credit. More than that, it puts the buyer in command of the market and very often enables him to make his own terms. It may mean a struggle at first, and sacrifices, but in the end it will make the probationer independent.

At each season—spring, summer, school-book, fall and holiday—make up your special stock orders, and secure the extra rates generally allowed at such times on orders of the required amounts. Also provide that all additional goods that you may buy before the expiration of the time limit, in the same line, or, better still, in the whole list, shall be billed at the discount on present purchases.

THE BOOKSELLERS AND STATIONERS' PROVIDENT ASSOCIATION.

THE thirteenth annual meeting of the Booksellers and Stationers' Provident Association of the United States was held at the rooms of Bangs & Co. on the evening of June 1. Owing to the warm weather there were but few members present—hardly fifty—and the desire of these was to get through the business of the evening with the greatest possible dispatch. The meeting was called to order shortly after 8 o'clock, by the President, Mr. Dillingham. The reading of the minutes of the last annual meeting having been dispensed with, the Secretary, Mr. W. B. Ketcham, in behalf of the Board of Trustees, read the following report :

To the Members of the Booksellers and Stationers' Provident Association :

Another year of the history of our successful association has passed and we now present to you our thirteenth annual report.

The records of the association indicate as follows :

Total amount paid to heirs since June 3, 1891.....	$14,000.00
Total amount paid to heirs since organization....	65,132.00

The experience of the past thirteen years has proven that by our system the cost to members is about one-third of the rate for $1000 on life policies issued by the regular life insurance companies, and we find that the cost to our members is below the average cost to members of other associations similar to our own. By our system a member pays so small a sum for his insurance that if he, for any cause, does fail to retain membership the ample guarantees given him are more than an equivalent for his outlay.

The expenses of our association, are low. In comparing the same with the annual reports of various associations of like nature, we find that for the past year our expenses are about one quarter of the expense attached to similar organizations. This is due to the fact that not a single member of your board receives any compensation whatever for his work. The Secretary receives only enough to cover the actual expense attached to his office.

During the past year the board has elected Charles A. Burkhardt, of E. P. Dutton & Co., to fill the unexpired term of F. P. Lennon.

The average age of our members is 39 years, a decrease of three years during the past year.

In reply to many inquiries received, we would state that the Treasurer and Secretary are under bonds far in excess of the amounts handled by them. The signature of five members of the board must be attached to all orders on the Treasurer before any money can be paid. The books are regularly audited before the Auditing Committee and have always been found correct.

It is our great desire to increase our membership to the full limit, 1500. The main object in doing this is to increase our reserve fund. As soon as we have 1500 members we can place $500 in that fund on each single assessment sent out, which in the future we can draw on should our death rate increase.

We desire to call your particular attention to the fact that a large proportion of our number do not secure a single new member. Our growth depends upon our own exertions, and if our members could be induced to use their efforts in securing new members for the association it would be but a few weeks when our membership would be completed.

In conclusion we congratulate you upon the success of the past, and look forward to the future with far greater hopes than ever before.

Respectfully submitted to the Board of Trustees, WILBUR B. KETCHAM, Secretary.

The report was adopted unanimously and elicited considerable applause. The election of trustees to serve three years, 1892-1895, then took place, and resulted in the following choice : W. S. Merriam, J. A. Holden, T. R. Knox, John Briggs, William J. Kelly.

Resolutions were presented and unanimously adopted thanking Messrs. Bangs & Co. and Mr. Ketcham for the use of their offices, the Secretary for his faithful and valuable services, the retiring trustee, Mr. Pritchard, for his long and efficient service in behalf of the association, and the trade journals for courtesies extended. The meeting then adjourned.

JAMES R. OSGOOD—IN MEMORIAM.

THE body of Mr. James R. Osgood was buried on the afternoon of May 23, in Kensal Green Cemetery, London. The grave is on a grassy knoll in the most beautiful part of the cemetery, and the ground around it had been transformed into a garden of flowers by Mr. Osgood's friends in London and from New York.

The services were of almost Puritanical simplicity, according to arrangements made by Mr. Osgood's intimate friends from the United States, in deference to his wishes. They were attended by a remarkable assemblage of persons conspicuous in art, literature and society.

Among those at the grave were Alma Tadmara, George Du Maurier, John Pettie, Colin Hunter, George Boughton, William Black, J. Pierrepont Morgan, Lord Francis Hope, Edwin A. Abbey, J. R. Robinson, editor of the Daily News, T. P. O'Connor, Thomas Hardy, William H. Appleton, Arnold Moseley, James Payn, William M. Laffan, William Sharpe, Frederick Macmillan, Clarence McIlvaine, and many representatives of the principal New York and London publishing houses. Harper & Brothers, of New York, and many other publishers sent great quantities of flowers, which were laid on and around the grave.

MR. MARSTON, of Sampson Low, Marston & Co., who had a long acquaintance with Mr. Osgood, writes as follows of his old friend: "I knew him when he first entered into partnership with the late Mr. James T. Fields as successors of the old Boston firm of Ticknor & Fields. Mr. Osgood had a large and intimate acquaintance with all the leading authors of America, for most of whom his firm were publishers, and the curious old corner shop was for many years the resort of such men as Emerson, Hawthorne, Lowell, and Oliver Wendell Holmes. Mr. Osgood was brought up in that house; it is to be feared, however, that the fund of anecdotes which he possessed of these and other literary celebrities will die with him. I have occasionally urged him to write out these anecdotes in the picturesque way in which he used to relate them, and which his literary tact and good sense would have made doubly interesting. I fear he never performed this interesting task. One of his adventures was in walking a race of three or four miles with Charles Dickens, in which, however, if I remember aright, he was sadly beaten.

"Of late years I had been in much closer relations with Mr. Osgood while he occupied an office in our house as the literary agent in this country for Harper & Brothers, and when he left us and carried away with him the agency for Harper's Magazine, as the foundation of the publishing business which only last year he established in Albemarle Street, he went under the most friendly circumstances. Indeed, no one could know James R. Osgood without feeling for him the warmest regard. His genial, pleasant face will be long missed by a host of friends on both sides of the Atlantic. His personal and social qualifications, tact and good sense rendered him as popular with many of the leading authors in this country as he had previously been with those of America."

THE Boston Herald corrects the current statement that the late James R. Osgood was one of the founders of the Atlantic Monthly, and says that its originator was Francis S. Underwood. He laid his plan before Phillips, Sampson & Co., booksellers of Boston, interested such men as Lowell and Longfellow in the scheme, and induced Lowell to become its editor. "It may be said," adds the Herald, "that Underwood originated the Atlantic, Phillips, Sampson & Co. made it a financial possibility, Lowell edited it, and Holmes did more than any one else to conduct it to its first success, which was gained in the midst of the financial panic of 1857 and in the face of many predictions to the contrary."

FREE TEXT-BOOKS IN MINNESOTA.

SEVERAL bills relating to text-books are at present before the legislature of Minnesota. One is known as the "Grinnell bill," and was introduced January 22, 1891, as Senate File, No. 102. It has for its object to establish county uniformity of text-books and to regulate their price. The other is known as the "Zelch bill," and was introduced February 7, 1891, as House File, No. 298. It aims to secure county uniformity of text-books, to regulate their price, and also to appropriate money.

Sec. 4 of the first bill provides that the county board of education shall contract with the publishers of the books selected by them, designating the price agreed upon for each, and securing full guarantees of the most favorable rates during the continuance of the life of said contract. This section further provides that the text-books so purchased by the board are to be loaned to the pupils free of cost, or the board may purchase the books and supply them to the pupils free of cost.

Sec. 7 provides that the books so adopted by the board shall not be changed for a period of at least five years.

Sec. 11 provides that the county commissioners when sitting as members of the board of education shall have the same fees and mileage as is now allowed to a county commissioner.

Sec. 5 of the second bill provides that it shall be the duty of the county commissioners of each county to provide a method of purchase, distribution and sale of text-books, provided no official, authorized agent or other person shall charge for said books a sum in excess of ten per cent. above the contract price fixed by the State text-book commission.

At a meeting of the Minneapolis Booksellers and Newsdealers' Association, held on the evening of May 20, these measures were discussed quite fully. Mr. Charles D. Raymer read a paper on the subject, from which we make the following extracts:

"In the first place, the object of these bills is to create a system of free text-books. At first glance it would seem that this would be a good and laudable measure from this point of view. It is urged on behalf of the measure that this law will put the means of an education in the hands of every one, that the parents will then have no excuse to keep their children at home because they do not have the money to buy them books. But let us glance at this argument in its favor for a moment; and it is not urged that there is any more popular or forcible reason assigned than the one just named. Can the advocate of this system of supplying text-books tell, either accurately or approximately, how many children are kept out of the public schools of this State because their parents cannot afford money to purchase the necessary books? They cannot, and as far as an argument is concerned it is entirely worthless. The fact of the matter is that all parents who are really desirous of having their children attend the public schools can easily provide the necessary books for them. And in case they cannot and still wish their children to have the benefit of an education, there are channels through which those in need of books can be supplied without cost. Those parents who pretend that the reason they do not send their children to the public school is that they cannot buy them the text-books required are only hiding behind a mere flimsy or foolish excuse and do not state the real reason.

"Again, free text-books does not mean the best text-books. It is a lamentable fact that boards of education who have to bargain for text-books, and who have to pay for these books out of public funds raised by taxation are deterred from buying the best books in the market, because the outlay would mean heavier taxation.

"Again we call attention to the fact that there would under this system be a much greater temptation to jobbery and fraud than under the present one. The book publisher could afford to buy one or two, or if need be a majority of the board of education, provided he was certain of getting a contract for five years or longer for his books. I do not assert that this would be done, but the tendency to do this would be largely augmented.

"The law attempts to legislate as to price and profits. The fact that the supply and demand must regulate these factors of the commercial world and value of the local bookseller, who is by such legislation driven out of business, is entirely ignored, and the commission sets a certain price on the books to be furnished and allows no one to make a larger percentage than 10 per cent. on the rate and price the commission may fix. This feature of the law is especially odious to the bookseller. His profits are by law cut down to 10 per cent. above an arbitrary standard to be fixed by a commission on text-books, a profit at which no bookseller or board of education in the world can handle books and pay expenses.

"Of course it may be urged that if he cannot furnish them at this price he is not compelled to bid on the proposition to fill the orders. But to this it is replied that the school-book trade forms a large part of every bookdealer's trade, and he cannot afford to be indifferent as to whether he secures it or not. Nor on the other hand can he very readily go out of business.

"This matter of free text-books is thus brought to your attention, and I think it one of vital importance to every one, especially to the bookseller, and I trust the many fallacies contained under the specious wording of these bills may be shown in their true light before they are adopted as a law."

FIRST SUIT UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF THE NEW COPYRIGHT LAW.

THE first suit brought for infringement of the International Copyright law was begun in the United States Circuit Court, May 27, by the filing of a complaint by D. Appleton & Co. against President Henry Dexter, of the American News Company. The plaintiffs state that they hold the exclusive right to publish in this country Thomas Carlyle's book, "Wotton Reinfred," of which they allege the defendant is now selling a pirated edition.

It appears that last August the manuscript of "Wotton Reinfred" was purchased by Archibald Grove, of London. D. Appleton & Co., believing that the work was of value, bought from Grove the full right to publish it in the United States, paying for the privilege a considerable sum of money. They had the book copyrighted on January 14 last, and in the following month published it in two instalments in a newspaper, which they also caused to be copyrighted.

It is claimed now that President Dexter and the American News Co. are selling a reprint of the book without having received the consent of the Appletons in writing, signed in the presence of two or more witnesses, as the law prescribes. The plaintiffs state that they have published "Wotton Reinfred" in handsome volumes, whereas the defendants' editions are cheaper in form and are injuring the sales of the plaintiffs' edition. An injunction and an accounting of sales and money received by the defendants are sought. Manager Farrelly, of the American News Company, claims that they had the work from the Waverly Publishing Company, and stopped selling it when they received a letter of complaint from D. Appleton & Co.

THE UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO PRESS.

D. C. HEATH & Co., of Boston, have recently concluded negotiations with the University of Chicago by which all matters relating to the publishing work of the university will come under the direct management of the Boston house.

The three great departments which comprise the university are : the university proper, university extension and the university press ; and it is in relation to the last of these departments that the Board of Directors have just taken the important action above noted. According to the new arrangements, D. C. Heath & Co. will take entire charge of the publication department of the university, and will manage the business from their Chicago agency on Wabash Ave. Numerous changes will be made in the university press, and there is little doubt that under the new management the value of its work will be largely augmented. It will be divided into three departments—printing, bookbinding and bookselling, and publication of periodicals. The printing department will possess fonts of Hebrew, Syriac, Arabic, Sanskrit and mathematical type ; and Messrs. Heath & Co. will probably establish in Chicago a press for doing the very best kind of book and magazine work. In the publication department there will be issued one daily, two or three weekly and any number of monthly and quarterly papers, chiefly of a scientific character. In this last department President Harper, of the university, has constantly maintained a lively interest, and it is his intention to work out many new plans for bringing the work done by the university more strongly before the public, in the various publications and in the management of the department.

The university is fortunate in securing the services of D. C. Heath & Co. in these branches of its work. Not only does this firm stand in the front rank of American educational publishers for the literary quality and mechanical execution of its work, but the members of the firm are both college men and in full sympathy with the aims of the new university and eager to see them realized. The senior partner, D. C. Heath, for many years junior member of the old firm, Ginn & Heath, has been long and favorably known in publishing circles; and the other partner, Charles H. Ames, was formerly connected with the educational work of James R. Osgood & Co., and later with the Prang Educational Co., during which time he was an active worker in the field of developing art education in this country.

BOOKSELLERS' ASSOCIATIONS.

BOOKSELLERS' ASSOCIATION OF ALABAMA.

THE Booksellers' Association of Alabama held its third meeting at the Caldwell House, Birmingham, Ala., on May 11. The association comprises the principal booksellers of Birmingham, Montgomery, Mobile, Selma, Opelika and Auburn, and since its organization in Montgomery last August, its members have worked harmoniously and effectively to promote the general interests of the trade. J. Q. Burton, of Burton Bros., Opelika, is President, and L. N. Woodruff, of Montgomery, is Secretary. There was a good attendance at the meeting and several new members were added to the roll, and the outlook for the association is most promising. The school-book question is one of the most serious with which the Alabama booksellers have yet had to deal. The keen contracts made between the school boards and publishers are said to lead to the introduction of inferior and objectionable books and to a ruinous cutting of rates, rendering this class of books a serious loss to the retailers. One of the principal objects of the association is the reform of the methods now adopted in this branch of the trade, and it is said that one of the possible results of the recent meeting will be the establishment of an Alabama school-book publishing house, issuing readers, spellers, histories, etc., by Alabama authors, and maintained by the association.

THE BOOKSELLERS AND STATIONERS' PROVIDENT ASSOCIATION.

AT the regular monthly meeting of the above-named association, the following new members were elected:

Floyd C. Thompson, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Edward Lange, Jr., New York City; James S. Mittag, Park Ridge, N. J.; Edwin R. Case, Jersey City, N. J.; Augustus Nathan, New York City; Edward Lovell, Hackensack, N. J.; William R. Morse, New York City; Frederick Allen, New York City; Walter W. Herbert, West Hoboken, N. J.; Harold H. Plummer, New York City; Joseph Scammell, Brooklyn, N. Y.; William R. Glenn, Philadelphia, Pa.; William Joyce, White-stone, L. I.; Allen Peckham, New York City; William H. Peters, New York City; William H. Walker, New York City; Hermon W. DeLong, Dansville, N. Y.; E. Provost, Jr., Baltimore, Md.; Albert S. Morse, Chester, Ill.; Arthur F. Schelle, New York City; Delia Camac, East Orange, N. J.; Henry E. Pearson, Colwyn, Penn.

Full particulars in regard to this association, together with a copy of the constitution and by-laws, may be obtained by applying to Wilbur B. Ketcham, Secretary, No. 2 Cooper Union, New York City.

OBITUARY NOTES.

GEN. A. D. STREIGHT, who died at his home near Minneapolis, May 26, at the age of sixty-two years, was for a time engaged in the book-publishing business in New York early in the fifties.

THOMAS O. HURLBUT, the well-known paper manufacturer, and President of the Hurlbut Paper Company, died suddenly at his home in South Lee, Mass., May 30, aged 58 years. He came of a family which has been connected with the making of writing-paper for many years. His father was a partner of the old firm of Owen & Hurlbut, of South Lee, Mass., which at one time controlled the trade in fine writing-papers. Thomas O. Hurlbut succeeded his father in business, and in 1860 the firm became known as the Hurlbut Paper Company, of which Thomas O. Hurlbut and his brother, H. C. Hurlbut, were members. Several years ago the firm was re-organized as a corporation, and Thomas O. Hurlbut became its President.

MISS MARIA MORGAN, better known as "Midy Morgan," one of the most remarkable newspaper women in the world, died on the 1st inst., in Jersey City, N. J., aged 64 years. For twenty-three years she was the live-stock reporter of the N. Y. Times, and for years contributor on the same subject to a number of other journals in the United States. Owing to her efforts the care of cattle in transportation and in stock yards was completely revolutionized and improved.

NOTES ON AUTHORS.

KOSSUTH, according to the London Publishers' Circular, has sent the manuscript of the fourth volume of his "Memoirs" to his publisher in Pesth.

PROF. A. S. HARDY, of Dartmouth, who has been spoken of for President of the College, has decided to leave Hanover and take a new professorship at West Point.

R. L. STEVENSON is busy on the long-promised sequel of "Kidnapped." The new volume will be called, after the name of the hero, "David Balfour," and will, in all probability, appear before the close of the present year.

PROFESSOR MCMASTER is at work on the fourth volume of his "History of the American People," which will probably be published in 1894. This volume will deal with the literary side of our national life, with some account of long-forgotten magazines and novels, book-fairs, booksellers, publishers, etc., as well as with the religious condition of the people from 1783 to 1820.

WILLIAM MORRIS is at work upon a new romance, which will run to a greater length than either "The House of the Wolfings" or "The Roots of the Mountain." The time chosen is that in which the mediæval period saw its most perfect development, and the theme is one of those adventurous quests which appealed so strongly to the mediæval imagination. Though Mr. Morris has thus turned some part of his attention to more purely creative work, the output of the Kelmescott Press, says the London Athenæum, has not been lessened, nor have his labors flagged upon that translation of the "Heimskringla" which Mr. Magnusson and he are preparing for speedy publication in the Saga Library.

JOURNALISTIC NOTES.

Godey's Lady's Book is to be revived, and published, this time from New York, under the editorship of Archibald C. Gunter, the author of "Mr. Barnes of New York."

The Urn, a monthly journal devoted to the interests of cremation, has just been issued by Louis Lange, 57 Willett Street, New York. The first number covers twelve quarto pages, and contains several articles on the philosophical and sanitary arguments in favor of incineration.

The Sunday-School Library, the new monthly paper devoted to the interests of libraries and librarians of Sunday-schools, concerning which we have had several inquiries, is edited and published by A. M. Thompkins, through Goodenough & Woglom Co., 122 Nassau Street, New York City. The subscription price is 25 cents per year.

ONE of the most important series of papers now appearing in any of the periodicals is that on "The Great Capitals of the World," which is being published in Harper's Weekly. Among the papers which have already been issued in this series are illustrated articles on Paris, by François Coppée; on St. Petersburg, by Vicomte de Vogüé; and on Constantinople, by Pierre Loti. The fourth paper is a superbly illustrated description of Rome, written by G. Boisser, and appears in the Weekly for June 1.

NOTES ON CATALOGUES.

CARL KELLNER, Karlsruhe, Baden, has just issued a bibliography of dentistry, compiled by Dr. Alfred Sternfeld, of Munich, and Carl Kellner, entitled: "Zahnärztliche Bücherkunde: bibliographisches Verzeichniss von Büchern, akademischen und sonstigen Abhandlungen, sowie der in medizinischen und naturwissenschaftlichen Zeitschriften veröffentlichten Aufsätze über das gesammte Gebiet der Zahnheilkunde, alphabetisch geordnet, und mit eingehender wissenschaftlicher Uebersicht." The work will be in two parts, of which the first (just issued) contains the author alphabet. The second part, to be issued this fall, will contain the subject classification. The second part will be in three languages, German, French and English. (211 p., 8vo.)

FRITZ VON SZCZEPANSKI, the author of the valuable "Bibliotheca Polytechnica" published last year, has just issued a "Bibliotheca Electrotechnica," being a classified and descriptive guide to electrical books published in English, German and French. The catalogue is divided into thirty-one departments under the following headings: Journals and annuals; Theory of electricity and magnetism; History of electricity; Electricity in exhibitions; Batteries and storage batteries; Electric lighting; Electricity in mining; Bibliography; Lightning conductors; Electricity in railways; Military electricity; Legal aspect of electricity; Electro chemistry; Electromotors; Galvanoplasty; Electric bells; Domestic electricity; Instruments; Electric transmission of energy; Conducts; Electric machines; Measurements; Potential; Statical electricity; Tables and formulæ; Telegraphy; Transformers; and Electric clock making. The catalogue is a reasonably complete list of modern electrotechnical literature issued since 1883, with data of size, price, and name of publisher, and a full author-index. Published in New York by the International News Co. (75 p., 16°, paper, 50 c.)

LITERARY AND TRADES NOTES.

GINN & Co. announce "Goodwin's Greek Grammar," revised by the author, W. W. Goodwin, of Harvard University.

D. APPLETON & Co. announce that they have secured the American rights of "Jean de Ker-dren," by the author of "Colette."

THE SCIENTIFIC PUBLISHING CO., 27 Park Place, N. Y., have in press Dr. Endlich's "Manual of Qualitative Blowpipe Analysis."

THE WORTHINGTON COMPANY have just ready in their International Library "The Erl Queen," by Nataly von Eschstruth, translated by Emily S. Howard.

G. W. DILLINGHAM, the New York publisher, is building a hotel at Lake Placid, in the Adirondacks, to be called "The Ruisseauumont." It will be opened July 1.

ACCORDING to the thirteenth annual report of the New York Hospital Saturday and Sunday Association, the amount contributed by the publishers and book trade to this charity last year was $410.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT Co. will publish shortly J. E. Muddock's new book, "Maid Marian and Robin Hood: a romance of old Sherwood Forest," with twelve original illustrations by Stanley L. Wood.

DAVID MCKAY announces reprints of Prescott's "Conquest of Peru," in two volumes, and the "Conquest of Mexico," in three volumes. These will be issued in the People's Edition and in the American Classic Series.

WILLIAM R. JENKINS, New York, has just issued "Parasites and Parasitic Diseases of the Domesticated Animals," by L. G. Neumann, Professor at the National Veterinary School of Toulouse, translated and edited by George Fleming.

THOMAS WHITTAKER has published Canon Farrar's sermons on the Ten Commandments under the title "The Voice from Sinai;" also, the "Vacation Club," a book for young folks, teaching the facts of natural history, by Miss Adah J. Todd, of Bridgeport, Conn.

THE AMERICAN TRACT SOCIETY have copyrighted under the International Copyright law Miss Agnes Giberne's two new books, "The Andersons, Brother and Sister," a story, and "Beside the Waters of Comfort," a book of consolation for the afflicted. They will both be issued in the early autumn.

ONE of the early issues of D. C. Heath & Co. will be a little volume for primary schools called "Leaves and Flowers," by Mary A. Spear, late principal of the Model School of West Chester (Pa.) State Normal School. These plant studies combine drill in reading with botanical information, calculated to serve as a useful basis for later study.

J. G. CUPPLES Co., Boston, announce for immediate publication "American Ideas for English Readers," by James Russell Lowell. This is an entirely new collection of his speeches, addresses, etc., delivered while abroad, embellished with a portrait taken from the bust by Partridge, and opening with an introduction by Henry Stone.

THE UNITED STATES BOOK Co. will publish shortly Zangwill's new book, "The Old Maids' Club," which will be a revised and largely supplemented version of the story that appeared in serial shape, and will contain a number of humorous poems and forty-five illustrations by Mr. F. H. Townsend. Mr. Zangwill is holding over his "Children of the Ghetto" till the autumn season.

JUDGE TOWNSEND, in the United States Circuit Court, equity branch, New York City, May 19, heard argument in the suits of Adam and Charles Black, of Edinburgh, and General Francis A. Walker, of Boston, against the Henry G. Allen Company and Funk & Wagnalls. Rowland Cox appeared for the complainants and James A. Whitney for the defendants. Decision was reserved.

WOLCOTT & WEST, Syracuse, N. Y., have just published an attractive little book, entitled "The Best Place on Earth," comprising a series of sermons on "Home," recently delivered by Rev. Cortland Myers, of the First Baptist Church, Syracuse, N. Y. The binding is in white, and the suggestive title is handsomely printed in brown ink from a special design made by Prof. Newton A. Wells, of Syracuse.

SEVERAL weeks ago a gentlemanly appearing fellow, dressed in dark clothing, with dark hair and mustache slightly sprinkled with gray, called on the New York book and stationery trade, representing himself to be Frank Burrows, of the Burrows Brothers Company, of Cleveland, O. Inquiry brought prompt response from H. B. Burrows, the manager of the company, stating that the man did not represent the house. The trade in other cities is warned.

MACMILLAN & CO. will publish shortly after its completion in the July number "The Naulahka," the novel by Rudyard Kipling and Wolcott Balestier, now running in the Century. For this edition of the story Mr. Kipling has added a number of rhymed chapter headings, some of which are very noticeable bits of his characteristic verse. They announce a new edition of Miss Jane Austen's novels. The edition is to be printed from entirely new plates, with a few illustrations, the set to be complete in ten volumes, issued monthly.

JUSTIN SMITH, of Ginn & Co., and Miss Marie E. Barnard were married in Boston, May 21. Mr. Smith is a Vermonter and was graduated from Dartmouth College in 1878, at the head of his class. He is one of three men in the history of Dartmouth who maintained perfect rank in every study throughout the course. Mrs. Smith is a Western woman with a fine soprano voice. She was born in California and has for two years been singing with the Mendelssohn Quintette Club. She is to be the soprano in Arthur Foote's choir after her return from the wedding trip.

HARPER & BROTHERS have just ready "An Edelweiss of the Sierras, and other tales," by Mrs. Burton Harrison; "Stories and Interludes," by Barry Pain; "The Blue-Grass Region of Kentucky," a new volume of sketches by James Lane Allen; "The Earl of Derby," by George Saintsbury, a new volume in The Queen's Prime Ministers Series; and "James Russell Lowell," by George William Curtis, illustrated with portraits. "The Blacksmith of Voe," a novel by Paul Cushing, author of "Cut with His Own Diamond," is the latest volume in Harper's Franklin Square Library.

It has been said that "Bill Williams," the creation of Colonel Richard Malcolm Johnston, was one of the most characteristic products of Southern literature; and "Dukesborough Tales," in which "Bill Williams" appeared, has been called a classic. The author has now selected from "Dukesborough Tales" six stories which describe the remarkable career of "Bill Williams;" and these stories, which form a continuous whole, have just been published in Appleton's Town and Country Library. The title is "Dukesborough Tales: the chronicles of Mr. Bill Williams."

SHELDON & COMPANY has recently been incorporated. Besides controlling the text-books formerly owned by the old firm of Sheldon & Co., they have recently purchased the valuable Franklin Educational Series and other text-books formerly published by Taintor Bros. & Co. Their new list includes the Franklin Readers, Sheldon's Modern School Readers, the Franklin Arithmetics, Sheldon's Arithmetics, Stoddard's New Intellectual Arithmetic, Scudder's U. S. History, Sheldon's Word Studies, Patterson's Grammars, Hill's Rhetorics, Logics, etc., Avery's Physical Science Series, Dr. Wayland's and Dr. Haven's books, and Shaw's English Literature Series. Many other well-known educational publications are also embraced in this list, which will be extended from time to time.

JOHN A. TAYLOR & CO. have just issued in their Mayflower Library John Habberton's new book, "Well Out of It." They have in press "The Catherwood Mystery," which they have arranged to publish for the author, Albert P. Southwick. This will be immediately followed by "The Other Bond," by Dora Russell, "A Modern Dick Whittington," by James Payn, "Constance," by F. C. Phillips, all in the Broadway Series, and by a set of novelettes from the pens of Julian Hawthorne, Grant Allen, George R. Sims, James Greenwood and others, collated as No. 6 of the Mayflower Library. W. Clark Russell's new story, "Alone on a Wide, Wide Sea," has gone to a second edition, the first having been exhausted within a week of issue.

FLEMING H. REVELL Co. announce a revised edition of Sir William Muir's "The Rise, Decline and Fall of the Caliphate," to which will be added three maps; the "Ainu of Japan," an account of the religion and general history of the hairy aborigines of Japan, by Rev. John Batchelor; "Ten Years' Digging in Egypt," an account of a ten years' sojourn (1881-1891) in that country, by W. M. F. Petrie; a biography of "James Gilmour of Mongolia," one of the most heroic missionaries of the 19th century, by Richard Lovett; "A Winter in North China," by Rev. T. M. Morris and Rev. Richard Glover, D.D., observations undertaken at the request of the Baptist Missionary Society; also, "The Story of Uganda and the Victoria Nyanza Mission," by Sarah G. Stock.

W. J. JOHNSTON CO., LTD., New York, have just issued the second edition of Prof. E. J. Houston's "Dictionary of Electrical Words, Terms and Phrases." The first edition of this work was published in 1889, and was the first book which defined and explained electrical terms in such language as could readily be understood by the general public. The second edition is almost entirely rewritten, and is fully twice the size of the first edition. It contains not far from 5000 distinct titles under which definitions and explanatory matter are given, and nearly as many more titles under which cross-references occur. The treatment of each title includes—first, a brief definition in large type; and, second, explanatory and descriptive matter in smaller type for the benefit of those who wish fuller information than would be given in an ordinary definition. The text is amply illustrated by 570 figures of electrical apparatus. The book is one which cannot fail to be of value to the professional man generally, and also to the intelligent reader of scientific periodicals, as well as of the newspapers and magazines.

E. P. DUTTON'S & Co.'s line of publications now ready for the fall and holiday trade maintain the high reputation that the publications of this house have long sustained. One of the leading holiday books of the house is "Little Men," a companion to the "Little Maidens" of last year. It is a series of full-page plates, superbly colored, bound in heavy bevelled boards, ribbon-tied. "Earth's Sweet Voices" is an oblong book, containing exquisite illustrations in color and monotint. "Poet's Corner" is a charming little volume with brief biographies of Scott, Shelley, Milton and others, and monotint sketches of the poets' homes and places they have rendered famous. Three delightful books daintily bound, with illustrations in colors, are "Scott Pictures," "Dickens Pictures," "Pickwick Pictures" (illustrated by H. M. Paget); and in "Pictures of the Holy Land" Patrick Watson gives an interesting description and charming sketches of a journey through Palestine. The immortal "Jackdaw of Rheims" also reappears, in very fine plumage indeed, with a dainty oblong cover and happy illustrations. "Christmas Once Is Christmas Still," by Bishop Brooks, is the carol for the year, illustrated in colors. Among the great array of smaller booklets it is impossible to select titles for special mention. The color printing is by Nister, and the best writers and artists furnish the texts and pictures. All are wonderfully attractive. There is a very full line of devotional companions, containing daily Bible verses and poetic or prose selections for the week, month and year. They are appropriately illustrated in color and monotint, and bound in pleasing covers. "Cross," "Crown" and "Star" are "shaped" books of devotional verse. Children's books and novelties are handsomely represented. Among the holiday juveniles with colored illustrations and decorative covers are "Granny's Wonderful Chair," by Frances Brown, illustrated by Marie Seymour Lucas, which is the "Lost Fairy-Book" of Mrs. Burnett's childhood, from which she took the charming fairy tales which were printed in St. Nicholas in 1887. Among the toy-books there are two large flat books which are novelties. One of them is called "Transformation Pictures;" it contains large color plates illustrating "Cinderella," "Beauty and the Beast" and the various fairy stories, and by pulling a little tab at the bottom of the page one picture fades away and is replaced by another; the tints and designs are very beautiful. The other book, "Push and Pull Pictures," contains comic illustrations, and by pushing and pulling the strap at the bottom of the page, the people, birds and animals in the pictures move. There are any number of books in animal shapes; many of them with easel backs, and dogs, cats, chickens, ducks, pigs, rabbits and other live stock are packed four in an envelope, each booklet containing verses and colored illustrations. "The Christmas Box" is a small express package addressed "To All Good Boys and Girls," and contains six little booklets; "Dolly's Library" and "The Children's Bookstore" are in the same style; "A Daisy Chain" consists of twelve daisies strung on a pale blue ribbon, with a child's face in the centre of each flower. "Sweet Little Faces" is in the shape of a fan, which furls and unfurls a child's face on each blade of the fan. "Kitty's Fan" is in the same style, a demure puss being perched on each of the seven blades. "The Cat's Half-Holiday" and "A Bunch of Babies" are both large color pictures mounted. There are a host of 1893 calendars, art, perpetual, devotional, Shakespearian, etc., in a variety of new and bright ideas from the "Children of the Year," with its twelve large ribbon-tied sheets and beautiful colored designs, to the tiny leather-bound purse calendar about one inch square. Three new series of cloth-bound twelves have also been issued: The Boy's Favorite Series, in which are twenty-two volumes, representing Verne, Henty, G. Manville Fenn and other popular writers; The Girl's Favorite Series, of four volumes; and "True Stories from History," in six volumes, giving respectively stories from the history of England, France, Italy, Greece, Africa, and from the history of Victoria's reign.

SPAIN, concluded a copyright treaty with the United States May 25.

THE Berlin Geographical Society will publish a book on the discovery of America, towards the cost of which the Emperor has subscribed 5000 marks.

EMPEROR WILLIAM of Germany is a book-binder by trade. He and his brother Henry learned the art in the shop of W. Collin, 22 Jägerstrasse, Berlin, who turns out the best work in Germany.

AT Sotheby's £59 was recently paid for a copy of the first edition of Gray's "Elegy," published at sixpence. At the same sale £94 was paid for a first edition of "The Vicar of Wakefield," while a copy of the first edition of "The Compleat Angler" realized £210.

MR. RUSKIN's publisher, George Allen, has just printed a chapter from "The Stones of Venice" in what appears to be old black letter, with beautiful initial letters and broad margins, the paper being hand-made. The volume is bound in vellum, tied by flat silk cords, terra-cotta in color.

BUSINESS NOTES.

HOLDEN, MO.—J. O. Grimes has sold out his book and stationery business.

NASHVILLE, TENN.—Hunter & Wellburn have enlarged their already large store, having moved the counting-room into a new room built in the rear of the old store, thus making the store-room large and handsome. The entire building (four stories) is filled with one of the largest stocks of school-books, school supplies and general miscellaneous books in the South.

PADUCAH, KY.—C. B. Scott's Sons, wholesale booksellers and stationers, will be ready for business about July 1.

TROY, N. Y.—G. L. Shivler has sold his book and stationery business in New Brunswick, N. J., to Reed & Randolph, and has opened a "Fine Art" room and book and stationery store at 37 Third Street in this city.

HOLIDAY SEASON 1892.

E. P. DUTTON & COMPANY, Publishers, Booksellers and Importers,
31 West Twenty-third Street, New York,

Invite the attention of the Trade to the following list of attractive and elegant books, prepared for the coming season. The list embraces an almost endless variety and is too extensive to be fully described within the limits of a single advertisement. The great favor with which our Books, Booklets and Calendars have been received in the past, both by dealers and the public, has enabled us to produce them in editions sufficiently large to allow of the very finest workmanship, yet at the lowest prices. Our large experience in the retail trade of New York City enables us to use careful judgment in what is pleasing to the public, and we have in the past been most successful in selling to dealers a line of books that retail buyers would take most readily.

New Line of Color Books.

1892 - 1893.

The finest line of Juveniles ever offered to the American public. Printed on fine calendered paper, profusely illustrated with half-tone and fine wood engravings and full page colored plates. Bound in half cloth with elegant lithograph covers, which, with the colored plates, are fully equal to the finest German work.

In publishing these books it has been our purpose to meet the demand for a line of "Color Books" of superior quality at a low price. We have been so successful that we are now able to offer a line fully as attractive as the imported books, better suited to the American market, and at less than half their average prices.

They are pronounced by all a wonder in book-making at the prices at which they are sold.

 This work is peculiarly important and timely, as the Jewish question is being thoroughly discussed in the "Forum" and other periodicals. The ultimate results of the present persecutions and exodus in Russia will materially affect the populations of the United States and England. Read this book and learn the physical and racial exemptions to disease the Jewish race enjoys, and why that in the vital scale they are superior to other races.

... "There is scarcely a bookseller in the country who would hesitate a moment to expend twenty-five dollars in advertising his stock; ought he to hesitate a moment about an expenditure that would enable him to sell hundreds of dollars' worth of books in a year? Such an investment would also purchase for him a reputation among his customers for intelligence and trade knowledge that would pay him five times over."—A. D. F. RANDOLPH.

"Salon" for 1892.

THE Annual Volume of the "SALON," comprising a critical and descriptive account of the entire exhibit and beautiful reproductions in photogravure of 100 PRIZE PAINTINGS, is now in course of preparation and will be ready early in the Fall. It will be issued with the text in French only, and will form the thirteenth annual volume of this grand series issued from the Paris House of LUDOVIC BASCHET.

The undersigned will have the exclusive sale of the book in the United States, and have decided to leave the price at the same low figure as that made for last year's volume ($12.00 for the vellum paper copies), and give a larger discount to the trade than ever before offered them on this sumptuous Art Annual. A LIMITED EDITION will be issued, NUMBERED, with plates ON HOLLAND PAPER.

Full particulars will be announced at an early date.
